THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

February 4, 2012

Bad will be the day, for every man when he becomes absolutely contented with the life that he is living, with the thoughts that he is thinking, with the deeds that he is doing,
when there is not forever beating at the doors of his soul some great desire to do something larger, which he knows that he was meant and made to do because he is still, in spite of all, the child of God.

- Phillips Brooks

A STORY WITH A MORAL

February 4, 2012

HIGH WIRE

In 1940 a great high wire artist was putting on a performance over Niagara Falls. A cable had been stretched from Canada to the US. He started from the Canadian side and was crossing to America. In front he was pushing a wheelbarrow. One foot at a time he crossed the wire, below millions of tons of water were crashing over the falls. The artist with nerves of steel pushes his wheelbarrow across. As he reaches the American side wild cheers were sent up, drowning out the roar of the great falls. He stood alone on the platform, hands raised high, and yelled to the crowd below.

"Do you believe I can do it again?"

The crowd went into a frenzied roar.

He yelled again, "Do I have a volunteer to ride in the wheelbarrow?"

All you could hear was the roar from the falls, the crowd was silent. No one volunteered.

A lot of Christians believe in God but are afraid to trust their lives to Him.

Well, how sad, imagine what a ride they will miss.
